Explanation

Hi,

In this app I've tried to show my knowledge and every skill, how they are today.

Hope that the result will satisfy your expectations.

Unfortunately, you will not see my knowledge of Back-End in this app, since I have not yet managed to master them to the level necessary for implementation in this project, but I am familiar with some technologies. I also have to explain why I did not write real tests, but made their emulation, since I am still in the process of learning and writing them. So you can call what is in the scripts folder and some lines in package.json a dummy. Maybe if I had known earlier about such a service as DynamoDB from Amazon AWS, I would have easily implemented my back-end.

Actually, I learned a lot already thanks to your task.

I look forward to reviewing the task I have completed and the perspective of my growth in your company.

Thank you.
